COOKIE POLICY

Effective from 2026-10-01

1. About this Cookie Policy

This Cookie Policy describes how Hartic AB, company registration no. 559480-6217, Teknikvägen 3, 961 50 Boden, Sweden ("Hartic", "we", "us" or "our"), uses cookies and similar technologies on our websites and digital services, including www.hartic.se and app.hartic.se.

This Policy should be read together with Hartic's Privacy Policy, which describes how we process personal data and the rights you have under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

2. What are cookies and similar technologies?

A cookie is a small text file that is stored on or read from your computer, mobile phone or other device when you use a website or digital service. Cookies can, for example, be used to make a service function, remember settings, maintain a secure login or collect information about how a website is used.

In this Policy, the term "cookies" also includes similar technologies that store or retrieve information from your device, to the extent that the same rules apply to such technologies.

Some cookies are session cookies and disappear when you close your browser. Others are persistent cookies and remain for a specified period or until you delete them.

3. Types of cookies used by Hartic

Hartic only uses cookies that are justified by the functionality of the service and our needs. The cookies actually used may vary between www.hartic.se, app.hartic.se and different functions within the services. An up-to-date list of the cookies and similar technologies used by Hartic is available at www.hartic.se/cookies. The list is updated on an ongoing basis when cookies, technical functionality or service providers change.

3.1 Necessary cookies

Necessary cookies are required for the website or service to function securely and effectively. They may, for example, be used for login, session management, security, load balancing, technical functionality or to remember your choices in the cookie settings.

Necessary cookies are used without consent where they are required to provide a service that you have explicitly requested or for the transmission of electronic communications.

3.2 Functional cookies

Functional cookies may be used to remember choices and settings that improve the user experience but are not strictly necessary for the basic operation of the service. Where their use requires consent, such cookies are activated only after you have given your consent.

3.3 Statistics and analytics cookies

Statistics and analytics cookies may be used to understand how visitors use our websites and services, for example which pages are visited, how functions are used and whether technical errors occur. Such cookies are used only after consent where consent is required under applicable law.

3.4 Marketing cookies

If Hartic uses cookies for marketing, campaign measurement or personalised advertising, they are used only after you have given voluntary consent. If Hartic does not use such cookies, they will not appear in the current cookie list.

4. Consent and your choices

For cookies that are not necessary, Hartic obtains consent before the cookie is placed or information is retrieved from your device. Consent must be freely given, specific, informed and provided through an affirmative action.

In Hartic's cookie settings, you must be able to make a choice for each purpose, reject non-necessary cookies and change or withdraw your consent. If you do not give consent, only necessary cookies may be used.

Withdrawing consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before the consent was withdrawn.

5. Current list of cookies

An up-to-date list of the cookies and similar technologies used by Hartic is available at www.hartic.se/cookies. For each cookie, the list includes at least:

- the name of the cookie and the provider or domain,
- the purpose of the cookie,
- the category to which the cookie belongs,
- whether it is a first-party or third-party cookie,
- how long the cookie is stored or whether it is a session cookie, and
- the type of information processed through the cookie.

By maintaining the technical cookie list at www.hartic.se/cookies, Hartic can update the information when a cookie is added, removed or changed without this overall Policy having to be revised for every technical change.

6. Third-party cookies and external service providers

Certain functions on our websites or in our digital services may be provided with the assistance of external service providers. If such a provider places or reads a cookie on your device, it is a third-party cookie. Hartic will clearly identify such cookies in the current cookie list.

If information collected through cookies constitutes personal data, it is processed in accordance with Hartic's Privacy Policy and applicable data protection legislation. If a service provider results in personal data being transferred to, or made accessible from, a country outside the EU/EEA, the transfer will be carried out using a valid transfer mechanism under the GDPR.

7. Personal data that may be processed through cookies

Depending on the cookie used, the information may include, for example, IP address, device and browser information, session or user identifiers, timestamps, selected settings and information about how the website or service is used.

If such information can be linked directly or indirectly to a natural person, it constitutes personal data. Further information about Hartic's processing of personal data, legal bases, retention, recipients and your rights is available in Hartic's Privacy Policy.

8. How to change or withdraw your choice

You can change or withdraw your choice at any time through Hartic's cookie settings. The link or function for opening the cookie settings must be readily accessible from the website or service where the cookies are used. An up-to-date list of Hartic's cookies is available at www.hartic.se/cookies.

You can also delete or block cookies through your browser settings. If you block necessary cookies, certain parts of the website or Hartic's services may no longer function correctly.

9. Changes to the Cookie Policy

Hartic may update this Cookie Policy when our use of cookies, our digital services or applicable rules change. The latest applicable version will be available on Hartic's website. The date at the top of the document indicates the date from which the Policy applies.
